DAYTONA COMMISSION GOVERNMENT BILL NOW UP TO GOV. TRAMMELL

The commission government bill affecting the city of Daytona has been endorsed by the Florida legislature, and now awaits the governor's signature.

A telegram received by the Daily News, Wednesday morning, from R. L. Smith, who went to Tallahassee a day or two ago, contained the following:

"The commission government bill has passed the senate. Now the people can vote on it."

Unless Governor Trammell vetoes the bill, which is unlikely, the proposition will later be submitted to the voters of Daytona for ratification or rejection.

DAYTONA BEACH.

DAYTONA BEACH, May 26.—Work is progressing on the foundation of a new home to be built for Frank D.
Gheen, a draftsman for D. F. Fuquay on Live Oak street in the Fuquay new addition.

The sacred concert, given at the Methodist church on Sunday by the Junior choir was very creditable to the members, showing considerable vocal talent as well as diligent practice under the competent direction of Mrs. Drake, their leader. The young people should have been encouraged by a larger attendance.

Harry and Ernest Bates, in company with Misses Lord and Skelton, motored over from the county seat Sunday for a day's outing on the beach.

John Woods arrived Saturday from Evanston, Ill., and joined his wife and daughter, who have been spending the season here and have recently located at the Indiana house on Hall fax avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Richards, of Cincinnati, Ohio, are among the pleasant people at the Daytona Beach hotel. Mr. Richards is advertising agent for the well-known firm of H.
& S. Pogue Co., of Cincinnati. He was formerly a newspaper man of southern Ohio.

Mrs. Van Valkenberg and attractive daughter, season tourists, left Saturday on their return to Cleveland, O.
Mrs. H. Haines, mother of P. A.
Haines, clerk at the Breakers, came over from Orlando the first of the week to spend a few days with her son before going on to Tennessee to visit other relatives.

Mrs. F. E. Bassett and son, Joe, and friend, Mrs. Kylinger, a motor party from Eustis, are spending a short time with Mrs. Will H. Moore and son at the Coquina cottage on Ocean avenue.

Miss Kerr, of Cumberland, Md., and friend, Miss Arrimann, of Toledo, O., came up from the southern part of the state and were guests at the Daytona Beach hotel for several days enroute home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Evans, of Maitland, Fla., were an interesting couple of newlyweds at the Daytona Beach hotel, Sunday.

Mrs. W. G. Miller, of Evanston, Ill., stopped off here a few days on her way home, to visit her friends, Mrs. J. Woods and daughter, on At-lantia avenue.

Mrs. Turner and daughter, who were located in one of the Stewart cottages, have returned to DeLand, but expect to be here again for a longer stay next month.

F. L. Seely, who owns the handsome coquina residence on the corner of North Atlantic avenue and Glenview boulevard, Seabreeze, spent a couple of days on the beach, guest at the Daytona Beach hotel. Mr.
Seely is now manager of the palatial Park Grove hotel in Asheville, N. C., which is owned by his father-in-law, Mr. Groove, and also has large interests of his own in and near the sky-land city, and for that reason wishes to dispose of his attractive residential property in Seabreeze.

The following guests from Orlando were registered at the Breakers, Sunday: J. W. Tucker, Chas. E. Evans, E. K. Drake, Louis Bas, Mr. and Mrs.
W. E. Brown, H. A. Smith, P. W. Sanborn, Miss Dosea Mathews, Miss C.
Mae Mathews and Viola A. Williams.

A noticeable improvement planned by Mrs. Lena Kurtz, the owner, for the Breakers surroundings is a retaining wall, to hold the embankment and prevent washing, after which the grounds in front of the hotel will be enriched with marl and black dirt and set to grass and trees, the latter of which will, in time, soften the glare of the sun on the sand and waters.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Blane, I. T.
Blane, J. A. Davis and Harry Fre-burg, of DeLand, dined at the Breakers Sunday.

Mrs. Roy Longee and children arrived recently from Fernandina to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Longee, on the corner of Harvey avenue and Coates street.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson and baby came up from Kissimmee on Saturday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Johnson, on Seabreeze avenue. Mr. Johnson went back to Kissimmee, Sunday afternoon, by auto by way of DeLand, but will be here again in a couple of weeks on his vacation trip and will exchange places with his father, who will go down to Kissimmee to take charge of Ernest's bicycle business.

Harry Grosse closed his lace shop on Seabreeze avenue and left Saturday on his way to New York. Before leaving he leased the south room of the Roxby first floor block, Daytona, where he will open his business next season.

Mrs. H. A. Horn will entertain the auction bridge club at her home on Palmetto avenue, Friday afternoon.

A carload lot of 6 and 8-inch pipe, ordered by the Daytona Beach council at the last session to complete the water system of the town and also to supply pipe for the Seabreeze system, is expected to arrive this week.

C. B. Hambrick, former resident, is in town. He came across country by automobile from Tampa with his brother, A. C. Hambrick, state commander of the Maccabees, and will be here for a short time. Mrs. A. C.
Hambrick came up by train and Mr.
Hambrick joined her at the Magnolia, which he will make his headquarters this summer.

Dr. B. F. Morrissey is making some minor improvements in his winter residence by the addition of three bay windows, which will add considerably to the light and breeziness of his commodious home on Peninsula drive.

A sad blow came to Mrs. A. S. Randall and family this week in the news of the tragic death of Oran J. Anderson, chemist of the Detroit Graphic company of that city, who was knocked from the dash board of an automobile by another car and instantly killed. Mr. Anderson married a beloved niece of Mrs. Randall, whom she had reared and is loved as her own child.

The campfire boys, Willie Freeman, Bob Wilder and Leslie Odum, held their annual three-days' camp at Burgoyne's point the first of the week.

Dr. and Mrs. Hanna, of Umatilla, came up Saturday and are occupying their cottage on Ocean avenue, where they will spend a week or so, later vacating it for a party who has taken it for the summer.

W. H. Manning and family left Saturday by automobile to motor through to Kalamazoo, Mich., to join his mother and sister. Mr. Manning had news of the death of his father soon after his mother and sister arrived on their return from here.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Esch and son, Winthrop, Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Esch's mother, and her niece, Mrs. Farnham, who has been with her through the winter and spring, leave Saturday on their return to Huron, Ohio, their summer home.

on Coates street for the summer to tow.

Walter and Ernest, motored over from Eustis, Saturday, to spend some time in their beach cottage, the Whitsett, at Seabreeze beach.

Work started Monday morning on the new addition to the Methodist church at Daytona Beach under Contractor Fuquay. Excavation is being made for the basement which will be used as a Sunday school room, and will extend under the entire building. The addition will be built to the east of the edifice and will cost approximately $5,000.

The following week's arrivals are noted at the Daytona Beach hotel:
F. E. Gilbert, Jacksonville; W. W.
Rose and wife and Miss Louise Booker, Orlando; F. S. Perham, Jacksonville; Rufus M. Robbins and party of five, Titusville; Mr. and Mrs. D. R.
Richards, Anita, O.; J. Wright and party of Jacksonville; S. Y. Arthur and wife and Stanley Walker, Sanford.

The Leisure Hour club meet Thursday afternoon at the beautiful new home of Mrs. A. S. Randall on Peninsula drive. There was no business before the leader, Mrs. H. W. Cushing, and the meeting for the afternoon was turned over to Mrs. A. G. Gods-mark, who had the program in charge.

The subject of the afternoon, "Trees," was interestingly discussed, nearly all members present taking part. Mrs.
Godsmark read a very instructive paper on class distinction of trees, which was followed by a general discussion. Several instrumental piano selections by Mrs. Randall, of Hollywood avenue, who is an accomplished musician, were greatly enjoyed. A delicious fruit punch was served. The leader announced the appointment of Mrs. A. S. Randall as associate leader.

The invitation extended by Mrs. C.
H. Willson was accepted and the announcement made that the next meeting of the club will be held at her home. The subject under discussion will be "Eugene Field." Mrs. A. S.
Randall will have charge of the program.

WOOS OVER

Barbed Wire Hinders Course of True Love.

Dutch Suitor Parted by Frontier Fence From Sweetheart on Next Farm Has Lively Experience Getting Past Sentries.

By W. J. L. KIEHL.

(Correspondent of the Chicago News.)

The Hague.—The course of true love runs anything but smoothly on the Belgian-Dutch frontier, especially when the sweethearts reside on opposite sides of the barbed-wire fence.

Pete is a Netherlander, Mieke is a Belgian; his farm stands securely on Dutch soil, hers precariously in "Little Germany" (as the Germans call Belgium). At first the lovers had not noticed much of the war, which has left their district almost untouched; then a strong wire fence was put up and German detachments of cavalry continually patrolled the Belgian side, while sentries were placed at intervals with loaded rifles and fixed bayonets.

Now it was no longer possible to hold sweet converse at eventide after the farm work was done. All that remained was to walk, he on one side of the wire, she on the other, and cast loving glances at each other, for the Germans would allow no talk across the border.

At last the swain spoke of his sad plight to an acquaintance who for a consideration made it his business to conduct Belgian refugees into Holland. Would Louis (that was the acquaintance's name) take him across on Saturday night so that he could pass the whole Sunday with his Mieke?
And Louis promised to do so on the very next Saturday, when he was due on the other side to meet fugitives at a certain prearranged place to take them safely into Holland.

That Saturday evening was damp and misty. "Just the right sort of weather for us," Louis enthusiastically put it, but his companion could not quite agree with him, as he waded through marshes to the dike beyond which stretched the wire fence. He was wearing his Sunday best and the seeping mud did not improve the appearance of his nether garments. But Louis assured him this marshy land was just the safest spot to get across.

As they approached the dike Louis cautioned Pete not to whisper or even breathe loudly. Cautiously they crawled up the dike, reached the top and raised their heads for a hasty glance around, but at once dropped them again. For there—though luckily with his back toward them—stood a sentinel.

Down the dike slid the adventurers as noiselessly as they had come.
Louis assured him that a few hundred yards farther along he knew of an other safe place. This time they were more fortunate, and, like rabbits, they burrowed under and through the wire and stood on Belgian, or perhaps we should say German, ground.

"Now just a few hundred yards of marsh and then we get into a good hard road," Louis exclaimed, and they deemed their troubles over. Then they heard the tramp of feet along the good hard road and distinguished the form of a German patrol. The men came straight up to the gate that led into the marshy meadow where the frontier runners had hurriedly dropped to the earth. "They're only resting," said Louis.

And so it was. The Germans clambered on to the gate and sat there talking for about a quarter of an hour, that seemed like a century to the two cramped and bedraggled men.

Now, however, their troubles were over. They came out into the road and soon reached the small farm where Louis was to meet the refugees.
Pete felt somewhat better after a hearty supper and dry clothes had been provided for him by the farmer's sympathetic wife and she had promised to clean his Sunday attire and have it ready for him to wear next morning.

Sunday dawned fine and sunny.
Somewhat stiff from his unwonted exercise, the strenuous suitor proceeded to the farm where his Mieke lived. Mieke, her mother and Pete were eating the meal when suddenly they heard the thud of horses' hoofs and down the bend in the road they saw a patrol of uhlands heading straight for the house.

Mieke hastily pushed her gallant into the stable, then rushed back to remove the third plate and seat herself at the table as if nothing had happened. Pete hurriedly crept into a meal bin and drew down the lid. He must have been there for hours, when toward evening Mieke came into the stable.

"Where are you, Pete?" she whispered, and Pete crept out from his hiding place as white as a miller.
Mieke stopped for a laugh, then told him to get away back into Holland as fast as possible, as the uhlands were not all asleep and this might be his only chance, for the whole patrol had been billeted on the farm and would be in and out at all hours.

So the sweethearts bade each other a hasty farewell and Pete hastened to return by the same arduous way he had come. Now he is once more doing his love making through a barbedwire barrier.

New York.—International...

warmers and mullers... the malds in the dining room of Whittier hall, Teachers' college of Columbia university, and every mall that comes from the other side brings warm missives from the soldiers convalescing in the hospitals of England and Scotland.

No sooner had the needs of the soldiers in the field become known in this country last autumn than Mrs.
Marie Seger, who is in charge of the dining services at Whittier hall, devised a scheme to improve the few leisure minutes the waitresses had and also to assist the warriors. With generous contributions of money made by the young woman students, Mrs.
Seger bought a large quantity of gray wool and knitting needles. She gave a quantity to each of the waitresses, hinting that when they had nothing to do—which frequently occurs when some of the girls miss their meals or come late to them—they might knit leg-warmers or mullers. The waitresses heartily fell in with the idea and the quantity turned out was an excellent tribute to their nimble handiwork and the fine spirit with which they accepted the suggestion.

When the goods were being packed for shipment, someone jocosely remarked that they might send along a note or two to cheer up the soldiers.
Mrs. Seger saw no objection to this and half a dozen of the waitresses penned brief notes "to whom our presents are given," enclosing their names. It was around Christmas that the first shipment was made. Now the thanks of the wounded are coming in with both serious and flippant replies to the notes of the girls. Some of the letters from the soldiers are written in Glasgow, some in Edinburg, but most of them are from St. Andrew's hospital, Dundee. Most of the knit goods containing the letters were distributed there, hence the interesting notes. One of them read:

Dear Fannie — : Your note came just in time to make me change my mind. When I got shot on the Aisne I was reported dead. My old girl, hearing of this, up and married a lad that was not man enough to go to war. First I wanted to eat a big enough bullet to make me croak. Then I got mad because I thought if she didn't care for any more of a man than she married she must have thought I was a fine snicker, too.
So now, I want to write to you a lot. Send me your picture when you write again. JOHN —

Another read:
"Dear Maggie — : From your name I think you are Irish. From your wit I know you are. From your tone I know you are a nice girl. I am Irish and I am married, but I am going to hunt up a nice Irish lad for you and make him write. And I will make him tell the truth, too."
"PATRICK —"

Still another, brief but explicit, ran:
Dear Jennie — : I would like to marry you, but have two Scotch lassies and three laddies in their kilts awaiting me home. What's more, there's a wee wife, and then sometimes I drink too much Scotch, and nice girls like you can't beat me like my wife can. SANDY —

No engagement rings have been received as yet, but then all sorts of romances are woven around Whittier hall, and the malds now are talking of trips abroad to hunt up their soldier boys when the war is over.

ENGLISH ROOSTER AT WAR

German in St. Louis Is Badly Wounded in Encounter With English Chicken.

St. Louis.—Henry Hoehn, of German descent, has some bad wounds on his face as the result of an encounter with an English chicken, a Plymouth Rock, raised by an Englishman. The cock had been sold to a meat market where Hoehn worked, and Hoehn was selecting some pullets from a pen in which the cock was imprisoned.

The cock, after seeing Hoehn cut off the heads of several pullets with a cleaver, leaped at him and struck him in the face with his spurs. Two long gashes were made. When Hoehn recovered from his surprise he threw the cleaver at the fowl and killed it.

SON TO DISPOSSESS FATHER

Sternly Insists in Court That Parent Must Pay Rent or Move.

Yonkers, N. Y.—Joseph Gillert, thirty, had his father, Paul Gillert, fifty-six, in court for nonpayment of rent and asked that he be dispossessed. The son owns the apartment house at 26 Croton terrace. His father occupies three rooms there.

Judge Beall asked young Gillert to be lenient with his father, but the son said that if his father could not pay his rent he would have to move.
All persuasion failed to shake the younger Gillert. The court had to order the father to pay rent or move.

WHILE the transient population of Daytona and the peninsula cities has dwindled to a few score souls, there are still several thousand permanent residents here. And they have to buy food and clothing and shoes and summer comforts and amusements.

The DAILY NEWS goes into the homes of several hundred families of these people every day except Sunday. And, Mr. Merchant, many of those people expect you to talk to them, through the DAILY NEWS, about the things you want them to buy---and things they WANT to buy.

SCHOOLS OF COUNTY SHOW IMPROVEMENT

The following statement has just been issued from the office of county superintendent of public instruction: In May, 1913, there were enrolled in the eighth grade of 20 graded schools in the county, 177 pupils; of this number, 64 were successful in final examinations and were promoted to the ninth grade, while 113 were required to remain in the grade a second year, or to do at least a part of the work over before receiving a diploma.

In 1915, there were enrolled in the eighth grade of 18 graded schools in the county, 146 pupils; of this number, 104 passed creditable final examinations and last week received their diplomas from the grammar school, while 42 failed.

The county superintendent attributes the improvement to two causes. First of all he feels that there has been a great improvement in the ability of teachers. Second, he feels that since 1913 the requirements of the sixth and seventh grades have been so closely followed that only a good foundation for eighth grade work could naturally follow, and as a result pupils admitted into the eighth grade have been well prepared for the work.

The county superintendent feels much gratified over the results of the year's work, and again appeals to mothers and fathers to insist that pupils be well prepared before being allowed to advance into the next grade.

Diamond of the Breastplate. Love is the diamond amongst the jewels of the believer's breastplate. The other graces shine like the precious stones of nature, with their own peculiar luster, and various hues; now in white all the colors are united, so in love is centered every other grace and virtue; love is the fulfilling of the law. —Rowland Hill.

True Enjoyments.

If we listen to the best guides, we shall turn with equal decision from the subtler allurements that beset success. We shall enjoy excellence, but not the vulgarly of excellence; find delight in our work rather than in the applause it may bring; a satisfaction in the quiet things—in the beauty of a spring morning, in the humble service of our neighbor, in our communion with the spiritual in us and beyond us—far surpassing that of any external and noisily-extolled performances.—J. Brierley.

Took Much Precaution.

An anonymous letter of warning which 31 people had apparently joined in writing, was read in the London divorce court during the hearing of a case in which two naval officers were concerned. Each syllable of the letter, it was stated, was in a different handwriting.

INSTEAD OF BEING TOO HIGH CHIMNEYS NOT HIGH ENOUGH

In quoting from Building Inspector French's report to the city council, in Tuesday's issue of the Daily News, it was inadvertently stated that Mr. French reported that a number of chimneys in the city were carried "too high above roofs." The sentence should have stated that some chimneys are not high enough above roofs.

Suspended Animation.

There are many different forms of suspended animation, some resulting from accident, like drowning or freezing, and some due to a regularly recurring process of nature, like the hibernation, or winter sleep, of many animals. Some animals during hibernation are smothered in close-packed mud at the bottom of ponds.

Most Injurious of Trades.

Quicksilver miners follow the most unhealthful trade in the world. The fumes of the mercury produce constant salivation, and the system, becomes permeated with the metal; the teeth of the unfortunate men drop out, they lose their appetite, become emaciated and as a rule seldom live longer than two years.

A Poser.

We have been trying to figure out why it is that the uglier the fashion the prettier the woman seems, but we give it up.—Columbus (O.) Journal.

New York's Obelisk.

The obelisk in Central park, N. Y., was set up there in 1881. It was the gift of W. H. Vanderbilt to the city. The massive granite pillar was originally erected in Egypt about 1600 B. C. by Thotmes III, and is, therefore, at the present time some 3,500 years old. The characters upon the sides of the obelisk are the so-called hieroglyphics—the picture-writing in which the Egyptians recorded their thoughts and their annals.

To Withstand Earthquakes.

Earthquake construction has now reached a very practical stage in the seismic districts of Italy, where all new buildings are being erected under strict supervision with respect to their ability to resist earthquake shocks. Professor Omori, the Japanese authority, has estimated that 99.8 per cent of the deaths in the great Messina earthquake of 1908 would have been prevented if the buildings had been properly constructed.

J. A. PRUITT RETIRES FROM PECK-HENDRICKS CO.

J. A. Pruitt, who was associated with his brother, J. W. Pruitt, in the Peck-Hendricks company, has retired from the company, J. W. Pruitt taking over his interest in the business. J. A. Pruitt had business interests in Georgia which required more of his personal attention than he could give while living here and being connected with business in Daytona. He therefore decided to return to Savannah, and left for that city Tuesday afternoon, accompanied by his wife and children, Max and Elizabeth. While here Mr. Pruitt and family were located at 31 Orange avenue.

"Cute."

The word "cute," which is a shortened form of acute, is not classical English, and it is not to be wondered at that you failed to find it in the dictionaries you consulted. It is a colloquial Americanism and might almost be classed as slang. It has two meanings. In the first place it means clever, especially in looking out for one's own advantage in petty ways, shrewd, smart as a cat. It also means small and pretty, attractive, as "a cute baby," "a cute little watch."

Mrs. J. B. Garrison, of Charleston street, Palmetto Park, Fla., and Mrs. Garrison's daughters, the little Misses Christine, Pauline and Helen each invited a number of their friends and playmates, between 75 and 100 invitations being sent out and quite generally accepted. A number of the mothers of the children were also present and aided Mrs. Garrison in their entertainment. Swings, seesaws and other forms of amusement had been prepared and the children also played games of various kinds. The weather was all that could be desired and the children were out of doors most of the time, playing upon the grounds around the residence. They formed a bright and happy group and gave full evidence of their enjoyment of the occasion. Ice cream and cake were served which capped the climax of delight for the little folks.

Not Sufficient Data.

Mother of Popes.

Bologna seems entitled to the claim of the mother of popes. Its institutions have furnished the world with seven supreme pontiffs, and it was the birthplace of five more.

Rubber Constantly in Demand.

Semi-official estimates made in India of the world's production of rubber for several years to come indicate a constant increase, passing 200,000 tons in 1910, but never equaling the demand.

"De road to de bad place may be paved wid good intentions," said Rastus Johnsing, "but ah ain't see nobody rested for breaking de speed laws goin' dere."

Substitute for Meat.

Experiments show that cottonseed meal makes a palatable, nourishing and economical food for human beings when mixed with corn meal or wheat flour. A pound of digestible protein is 15 times as expensive in meat as it is in cottonseed meal.

Did You Ever Drink Perry?

Did you ever drink perry? It is to pears what cider is to apples, and although it is little known in America, it is widely used in England and special varieties of pears, which make especially good perry, are grown for that purpose.

Dexterous Dentist.

"It was a dreadful moment," said the dentist. "I was bathing quietly, when the great cavernous jaws of the shark opened before me." "What did you do?" asked one of the ladies. "I took my forepaws out of the pocket of my bathing-suit and pulled his teeth before he had a chance to seize me. It was the quickest and neatest bit of work I ever did."

Women and the Koran.

The primrose path was no blithe and gladsome way for the Mohammedan woman. Originally the penalty for female unchastity was imprisonment for life. This was changed later to stoning for married women and 100 lashes and exile for one year for unmarried free women. For slave women one-half of the penalty was imposed.

Injuring Children's Eyes.

"We are destroying the eyes of a large number of school children by the burden of continuous near work to which they are subjected," says a leading physician. He suggests as a remedy, in addition to the use of eyeglasses, reduction in the amount of work dependent directly upon the printed page. "Let us have more thinking and fewer books," he declared.

Greatest Musical Nation.

To say of any one nation that it has "given us the best and most charming music" would be a rather hazardous statement. Italy has given us much fine music, and so has France, and Austria, and England, and even the United States. Perhaps Germany has the best claim to be called the leading musical nation. Certainly no other nation can show greater music than that which was composed by Beethoven, Mozart and other artists from the Fatherland.

Picked a Bargain at Auction Sale.

A fortune in a pipe bowl was discovered by a Peterborough (Eng.) architect, Mr. Fordham, who purchased an old meerschaum pipe at a recent auction sale for a few shillings. He found on taking his purchase home, that in front of the bowl was set with a cluster of diamonds, emeralds and rubies. The gems have been valued at $500. Dealers from all parts of England were present at the sale, but failed to discover the bargain.

What is a Week-End?

What, or rather when, is a "week-end?" An English court has had to determine the meaning of the phrase. A man brought a reduced rate "week-end" ticket on Friday and when he sought to return Saturday night was told that he would have to pay full fare, as the special ticket would be good only on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. The man sued the company for the excess fare charged him and won his case.

"A couple of men are going up to try the new aeroplane," said the officer of the guard. "Shall we send for the colonel?" "No," replied the orderly. "Send for the surgeon."
